

13 October 2022 11:05 – 12:00: LESS TALK–MORE ACTION: UN GOALS IN THE ARCTIC, TOOLS & GAMES WORKSHOP

Organized by: Nordic Marine Think Tank, Denmark; University of Bergen, Norway; SINTEF Ocean, Norway; ARCT/SDGCARDS.NO, Norway

SPEAKERS:

Dorothy Dankel, Senior Research Scientist, SINTEF Ocean, Norway; University of Bergen, Norway; Nordic Marine Think Tank, Denmark:
Exploring Methods for Localizing and Taking Action on the UN Goals Based on Results from Research Projects

Anders Oskal, Secretary General, Association of World Reindeer Herders; Executive Director, International Centre for Reindeer Husbandry, Norway:
How do Indigenous People and Reindeer Herders view the UN Goals as a Tool and Path to Success?

Karin Berentsen, Founder, Principal, ARCT; Business Developer SDGCARDS.NO, Norway:
How to Engage on the UN Goals in the Arctic? How to Take Actions on the UN Goals?

John Kilbourne, Professor of Movement Science, Grand Valley State University, USA: Early Sami Play & Games for Promoting Sustainability and Peace

Lisbeth Iversen, The Nansen Environmental and Remote Sensing Center (NERC); The Oslo School of Architecture and Design (AHO), Norway:
Dialogue as a Bridge-Building Tool – a Svalbard Example

Dwayne Menezes, Founder, Managing Director, Polar Connections - Polar Research & Policy Initiative, United Kingdom:
How Can the Un 2030 Agenda on Sustainable Development Help Address Some of the Toughest Challenges Facing Polar Peoples and Places